

Rebekah Ozuna

Rebekah Ozuna has over 15 years' experience working with children from ages 0-5 and the special needs community. She completed her Early Childhood Education degree from the University of Texas at San Antonio and her Masters of Education in Administration from Concordia University - Texas. While attending her masters program she was a member of Pi Lambda Theta, a National Honor Society and Professional Association for Educators. She was raised closely in a family with special needs individuals and immediately knew her heart was in special education.

Rebekah currently teaches special education students ages 3-5 in a Head Start center in San Antonio Independent School District. She works closely with her local union, The San Antonio Alliance of Teachers and Support Personnel, a district wide facilitator for the Foundations of Effective Teaching and Managing Behavior in School Communities. She has been recognized for her innovative teaching practices by the SAISD Foundation, where she was the first early childhood special education teacher to receive the Innovative Teaching Practices award. Rebekah has also been chosen as a campus Teacher of the Year. She has a passion for the special needs community and a powerful personality. Rebekah enjoys volunteering and advocating for individuals with disabilities. Her tenacious spirit has helped her positively impact students, families, and teachers across the nation.
